NONG BUA LAM PHU

Nong Bua Lam Phu is the country's latest province. Established on December 1, 1993, it is the 76th province of Thailand. Before separation, Nong Bua Lam Phu once was part of Udon Thani. Although the province was just established recently, it has long history. Archeological artifacts found in this area indicate that there were human settlements in Nong Bua Lam Phu since in the pre-historical era. About 200 years ago, a town was established by Laotian people from the left side of Mekong River. The name Nong Bua Lam Phu appears in historical record as a rest venue for Siamese Army during their march to fight against Vientiane in both Ayutthaya and Rattanakosin era. Besides picturesque nature namely Phu Phan Range and beautiful lake, Nong Bua Lam Phu is rich of cultural attractions, such as archeological sites and interesting local handicrafts. The province acquires total area of 3,859 square kilometres and it is divided into 6 Amphoes namely Mueang Nong Bua Lam Phu, Non Sang, Si Bun Rueang, Na Klang, Suwanakhuha, and Na Wang.

ATTRACTIONS

Amphoe Mueang Nong Bua Lam Phu

Monument and shrine of King Naresuan the Great

(พระอนุสาวรีย์และศาลสมเด็จพระนเรศวรมหาราช)

Built to commemorate King Naresuan the Great who in 1574 led his army en route Nong Bua Lam Phu to Vientiane by the assignment of the King of Hongsa, or the kingdom of Burma which ruled Thailand at that time. As King Naresuan got sick, King of Hongsa allowed him to get back to Ayuthaya. The venue where King Naresuan set camp is in the compound of around Nong Bua Park, in front of Nong Bua Lam Phu's city hall. Every year during Januray 25 - February 3, celebration and ceremony are held to honor King Naresuan.

Nong Bua (หนองบัว)

The big pond is situated right in front of the city hall. As it never dries up, the pond with a beautiful backdrop of Phu Phan Kham Range is a nice place to relax for the Nong Bua Lam Phu people. On the western end is a shrine called Ho Song Nang. Legend has it that the spirits of the twin sisters Khamsi and Khamsai, nieces of Phra Wo Phra Ta, the founder of Nong Bua Lam Phu, are there to guard the Vientiane giant gong.

Phra Wo Phra Ta City Pillar Shrine (ศาลหลักเมืองพระวอพระตา)

Located just 100 metres from highway 210 (Nong Bua Lam Phu-Udon Thani), the city pillar shrine is built to honor Phra Wo and Phra Ta who had established the city. The first stone of this city pillar shrine was laid on November 21, 1975. It was completed and opened on February 28, 1976.

Namtok Thao To Botanical Park (วนอุทยานน้ำตกเหวไต้)

Situated on highway 210 (Nong Bua Lam Phu Shell Fossil Museum-Udon Thani) some 3 kilometres from Nong Bua Lam Phu City, the shady park is a nice place for picnic. The secreted shrine of Pu Lup is located nearby.

Shell Fossil Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์หอยหิน ๑๕๐ ล้านปี)

Located at Ban Huai Duea, Tambon Non Than, the Museum features mollusk fossils dating back to 140-150 million years ago. A number of bivalve fossils were found in good condition on a 50-metre high cliff. In addition, ancient crocodile skeletons, mica and some minerals were found. Visitors will also enjoy the exhibition building featuring pieces of dinosaur fossils found in a siltstone layer, 2 metres above the layer where the shell fossils were excavated. These pieces include both the upper left and right front legs, lower hind legs, scapula, metatarsals, and ribs.

The dinosaur and shell fossils discovery site in Ban Huai Duea has been developed into an "Unseen Nong Bua Lam Phu" area. The 6 zones include:

Zone 1: Reception Area (โซนต้อนรับ) features the Non Than dinosaur family.

Zone 2: Across the Universe (โซนท่องจักรวาล) showcases the origin of the universe, the solar system, and the Earth. The highlight is the model of the planets of our solar system including Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto revolving around the sun

Zone 3: The Origin of Life (โลกแหล่งกำเนิดชีวิต) features the evolution of life on Earth including plants, animals, and humans from past to present.

Zone 4: Hunters' Kingdom features dinosaur exhibits (อาณาจักรนักล่า) Visitors will enjoy fossils and remains of dinosaur bones found at Ban Huai Duea, Tambon Non Than, as well as a life-size robotic dinosaur Siamotyrannus isanensis. It is a 4 metres long by 7 metres high theropod, which is able to move as much as 8 movements including nod: up/down/left/right, mouth: open/shut, eyes: open/shut, eyeballs: rolling, front legs movement, tail: up/down, and staggering: left/right, and roaring.

Zone 5: The Wonders of Discovery (มหัศจรรย์แห่งการเดินค้นพบ) Exhibits of a wall display and 150 million-year-shell fossils. The audience can see and listen in the local language.

Zone 6: Follow the Explorers (ตามรอยนักสำรวจ) Showcasing the work of palaeontologists, geologists, equipment, fossils study, and history of surveying the geological sources of the 150-million-year-old shell fossils. Admission fee is 20 Baht for adults and 10 Baht for children and students. (free of charge for children with a height less than 80 cm, monks, disabled, and elderly). For more details, contact the Non Than Subdistrict Administrative Organisation, Tambon Non Than, Amphoe Mueang, Nong Bua Lam Phu, 39000, Tel. 0 4200 0048 ext 11, Fax. 0 4200 0048 ext 18.

How to get there: Proceed via Highway No. 210 (Nong Bua Lam Phu - Udon Thani route). Situated 10 kilometres from the provincial city of Nong Bua Lam Phu, the Museum is located at Ban Huai Duea, Tambon Non Than, at Kilometres. 88 on your left. Tourists can also take the Nong Bua Lam Phu - Udon Thani bus.

Luangpu Lot Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์หลวงพ่อหลอด ปโมทิตะเจติย์)

Located in Wat Pa Si Sawang, Tambon Ban Kham, is the Pamodita Pagoda, which houses the sacred relics of Lord Buddha sent from Nepal. Luangpu Lot presided over the ceremony to enshrine the relics on 25 February, 2000. The museum itself is open daily from 09.00 a.m. to 04.00 p.m. The relic is only open to the public on Buddhist holidays.

Wat Si Khun Mueang (วัดศรีคุณเมือง)

Formerly known as Wat Khon Chum Nam Ok Bo, this Khmer and Lawa influenced temple is located at Mu 5, Worarat Road, Tambon Lam Phu. It houses significant archaeological artefacts comprising ancient boundary stones, an Ubosot or ordination hall, as well as, the much revered Buddha statue Luangpho Phra Chaiyachettha.

Phu Hin Lat Cho Fa (ภูหินลาดช่อฟ้า)

Located in Tambon Non Than, this rugged mountain range with pathways and caves used to be the stronghold of the Communist Party of Thailand. It was a school of politics, training camp, and headquarters, which sent out troops to various zones. Visitors will also find more than 200 urns of those who died in the operations. A memorial merit-making ceremony is held annually in summer. The former exercise zone is now a star observation point. Amphoe Nong Wua So and Amphoe Kut Chap of Udon Thani province are visible from up here. Inside the caves, there are chambers for various purposes like Tham Witthayu, Tham Wethi, Thap Rong Phayaban, Tham Sabiang, and hotel for honeymooners.

Wat Tham Klong Phen (วัดถ้ำกลองเพล)

Located at the foot of Phu Phan Mount, Wat Tham Klong Phen is the province's famous forest temple. Without accurate history, the temple was probably built during Khmer era and it has been neglected until 1958. Luangpu Khao Ananyo, monk who practiced Wipassana meditation from famous monk Archan Man Phurithatta Thera, has used this venue to practice his meditation. He has covered 3-4 huge rocks with cement roof, making it a very big hall that can accommodate hundreds of people. Luangpu Khao has practiced meditation here until he has passed away in 1983. Blanketed with lush vegetable and decorated with rock garden, around the temple is very shady and peaceful. The main hall or Ubosot houses statue of Luangpu Khao and two-sided ancient drum or Klong Phen. In its rock corners, there are many Buddha Statues in different attitudes such as meditation, reclining, and 'Pattranimit' or bas relief of Buddha image in walking attitude. At the front of the hall is a huge statue of a Chinese Monk of good luck. A bit from the temple, a two-kilometre-long road, running through a forest and weird-shaped rocks, leads to the monument of Luangpu Khao. Around the monument are:

Museum of Luangpu Khao Ananyo's utensils (พิพิธภัณฑ์อัฐบริขารหลวงปู่ขาว อนาลโย) The museum features ashes and utensils of Luangpu Khao for Buddhist can pay homage.

Old Monastery of Luangpu Khao (กุฏิเก่าของหลวงปู่ขาว) The small wooden hut is situated in the shady forest. The new monastery is a huge house in Thai traditional style.

Luangpu Khao Wax Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์หุ่นขี้ผึ้งหลวงปู่ขาว) The architecture, in the shape three rocks sitting next to each other, blends itself to the surrounding rock garden of the temple. Situated amidst colourful garden and lush green lawn, the museum features wax statue of Luangpu Khao in sitting posture. His utensils are displayed in the room nearby. Luangpu Khao Pagoda (เจดีย์หลวงปู่ขาว) Built to house ashes of Luangpu Khao, the pagoda is situated on rock terrace and can be reached by stair.

Luangpu Khao Pavillion Rectangular (มณฑปหลวงปู่ขาว) pavilion is built during Luangpu Khao's era as a venue for Buddhism rituals. Around the pavilion is calm and shady.
